Dear Friends,

Welcome to the final production of The Old Globe's 2008/2009 season, the world premiere of Cornelia, by Mark V. Olsen. I have been a big fan of Mark's writing on his HBO series, Big Love, and when I read Cornelia, I felt that it displayed Mark's incredible talent for drawing interesting and complex characters in a moving drama that evokes the golden age of the Broadway play.

We hope that you will be joining us this summer. The Globe's beloved annual Shakespeare Festival includes one of the most famous and romantic plays of all time, Edmund Rostand's Cyrano De Bergerac. Rounding out the Festival will be a gorgeous production of Shakespeare's popular comedy Twelfth Night and one of his greatest dramas, Coriolanus.

On the Globe stage we present a very exciting world premiere of a Broadway bound musical, The First Wives Club, based on the hit movie and best-selling novel. The score is by Rock and Roll Hall of Fame legends, Holland-Dozier-Holland, whose countless classics were hits for everyone from The Supremes to Barbra Streisand.

Finally, this summer on the arena stage, is the wildly hysterical farce, The Mystery of Irma Vep, which has become a cult hit over the years.

As we prepare for the future with our Conrad Prebys Theatre Center and plaza that includes new education and audience enrichment programs and even more beautiful setting for your enjoyment, I ask that you consider supporting these efforts by making a gift to our capital campaign or annual fund.

I thank you for being here and, in advance, for your additional support.

Dear Friends,

Our ability to continue presenting theatre of the highest caliber, such as this world premiere of Cornelia, is only made possible through your continued patronage — as subscribers and contributors — and your ongoing involvement with The Old Globe is truly appreciated.

In these challenging economic times, it is more important than ever that we express our gratitude in as many ways as we can for your consistent support of our Annual Fund. We hope you know that we appreciate each and every gift, whatever the size — what’s vital is that you do give. While the Capital and Endowment Campaign is raising critical funds for the future of the Globe, your renewed annual gifts keep the Theatre’s doors open, curtains rising and education programs thriving today.

I am honored to serve as Chair of The Old Globe’s Board of Directors and to help support an organization which is so highly regarded across our country. On behalf of the Board of Directors, I would like to thank you for making the Globe a part of your life. We hope you will continue to be involved as a patron and as a supporter. Enjoy the show!

Donald Cohn, Chair,
Board of Directors

CORNELIA is supported, in part, by the following generous sponsors:

Valerie and Harry Cooper

Valerie Cooper has served on the Globe Board of Directors for many years, including as Secretary and member of the Executive Committee. Valerie and her husband, Harry, have played many other important roles at the Globe and both have co-chaired extremely successful Globe Galas (Valerie in 2004 and 2006; and Harry in 2005), and this year, Valerie serves on the Globe Gala Committee. The Coopers have previously sponsored The Violet Hour, Moonlight and Magnolias, A Catered Affair and The Women. Valerie and Harry are active throughout San Diego, supporting the Museum of Contemporary Art San Diego, Vista Hill Foundation, San Diego Opera, Planned Parenthood and Patrons of the Prado. Valerie can also be found on the hunter/jumper circuit with one of her prize-winning horses.

The County of San Diego and Supervisor Bill Horn

The Old Globe appreciates Supervisor Bill Horn’s support of the world-premiere productions like Mark Olsen’s Cornelia. The development of new plays and musicals is at the very core of the mission of The Old Globe. As a leading developer of new work, the Globe has produced 64 world premieres and numerous early productions of developing work. Producing new work requires extraordinary community support, and enables the Globe to expand its capacity as a leading American theatre.
GEORGE C. WALLACE

After George Wallace’s failed gubernatorial campaign in 1958, in which he espoused moderate racial views, he took a hard line on segregation in the 1962 governor’s race. He came to national prominence in 1963 by standing in the schoolhouse door to prevent the integration of the University of Alabama. He used this notoriety to spearhead a serious run for President as an independent in 1968, garnering 46 electoral votes from the Deep South which became his base. The disaffection by middle class voters for the permissiveness bred, as they saw it, by the more liberal 1960s propelled Wallace as a serious Democratic Presidential candidate in 1972. He won every county in the Florida primary and was poised to wage a vigorous campaign when he was paralyzed by a shot from a would-be assassin. He eventually won 6 primaries, including his first Northern state, Michigan but his injury ended his active campaign. Though he ran again in 1976, his national political career was over.

CORNELIA WALLACE

Cornelia Wallace, the niece of the man whom George Wallace beat to start his political ascendancy, married the then governor-elect two weeks before his inauguration in 1971 to his second term of office. Twenty years the governor’s junior, she cut a glamorous figure. Her good looks and shapely legs carried her to the semifinals of a Miss Alabama contest before she became the star of the Cypress Gardens water ski show in Florida and married John Snively III, a millionaire whose family at one time owned the Gardens. After seven years of marriage and two sons, they were divorced in 1969. About a year after Lurleen Wallace died, Cornelia met George Wallace and they began dating. To avoid publicity, the two at first met only at her home or at little-known restaurants. She found him “very appealing and very physical,” but also “very Victorian.”
BIG JIM FOLSOM

James E. Folsom Sr. was a populist governor of Alabama from 1947 to 1951 and 1955 to 1959. He stood 6'8" and was known as the little man’s big friend. He was progressive in civil rights issues and was one of the first Southern governors to endorse integration and equal rights for African-Americans. His wife died of complications during a pregnancy in 1944. After his election to his first term, he turned to his sister (Big) Ruby Folsom Ellis to serve as First Lady at official functions. A paternity suit in his first term propelled him into a new marriage which displaced Big Ruby from the Governor's Mansion. He ran for governor again in 1962 but was beaten by a protégé, a newly segregationist George Wallace.

BIG RUBY FOLSOM

Ruby Folsom was the sister of Governor Jim Folsom who, joined by her young daughter Cornelia, presided over the Governor's mansion for her widowed brother until his remarriage. When Cornelia later married George Wallace, who had defeated the progressive Jim Folsom in the 1962 Democratic gubernatorial primary, Ruby became a capital city gadfly, always available for a colorful quote about her son-in-law. As over-sized a character as her brother Jim, Ruby was seen by some as a possible competitor of her daughter’s for Wallace’s affections. After she campaigned for George in Florida in 1972, some on the Wallace staff seemed to consider her an embarrassment, and she was miffed. “Ah’m scared they’re gonna tell George ah was drinkin’ too much and showin’ my fanny,” she told a reporter.

LURLEEN BRIGHAM WALLACE

Lurleen Wallace was George Wallace’s first wife. Prevented by term limits in the Alabama Constitution from running for a second term in 1966, he engineered her candidacy to replace him. The voters understood that this was a de-facto second term for Wallace. What they didn’t know was that Lurleen Wallace was suffering from cancer. It had been discovered in 1961 after the birth of her last child. She was not told at the time at George’s request and so did not get proper preventive care. She won the election, but died in office. She was Alabama’s first and so far only woman governor and the only woman governor to die in office.
THE FOUR LITTLE GIRLS: The Sixteenth Baptist Church Bombing

In September 1963, during George Wallace’s first term as governor of Alabama, a bomb exploded during services at the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church in Birmingham and killed four young girls. The Church was used as a meeting-place for civil rights leaders such as Martin Luther King Jr., Ralph David Abernathy and Fred Shuttlesworth. Tensions became high when the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) and the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) became involved in a campaign to register African Americans to vote in Birmingham.

On Sunday, September 15, 1963, a white man was seen getting out of a white and turquoise Chevrolet car and placing a box under the steps of the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church. Soon afterwards, at 10:22 a.m., the bomb exploded killing Denise McNair (11), Addie Mae Collins (14), Carole Robertson (14) and Cynthia Wesley (14). The four girls had been attending Sunday school classes at the church. Twenty-three other people were also hurt by the blast.

Civil rights activists blamed George Wallace, the Governor of Alabama, for the killings. Only a week before the bombing he had told the New York Times that to stop integration Alabama needed a “few first-class funerals.”

A witness identified Robert Chambliss, a member of the Ku Klux Klan, as the man who placed the bomb under the steps of the Sixteenth Street Baptist Church. He was arrested and charged with murder and possessing a box of 122 sticks of dynamite without a permit. On October 8, 1963, Chambliss was found not guilty of murder and received a hundred-dollar fine and a six-month jail sentence for having the dynamite.

NEXT UP AT THE OLD GLOBE...

When George Wallace married Cornelia Ellis Snively 18 months after his first wife Lurleen had died, it was long before the popularization of the notion of first and second wives by Olivia Goldsmith in her popular novel, The First Wives Club. Next at the Globe is a musical tale of second and first wives, but these first wives are alive and kicking and getting even. They are the members of The First Wives Club, based on Olivia Goldsmith’s bestseller and the hit film that followed. Olivia Goldsmith was the author of several popular novels that often dealt with the mistreatment of women by the men they love and how the women turn the tables in the end. Rupert Holmes, the musical book writer is the current go-to guy for musical books based on films. In addition to The First Wives Club, he’s adapted Marty, My Man Godfrey, Robin and the 7 Hoods and Second Hand Lions for the stage. It’s a difficult and specific talent to have. On one hand the writer doesn’t want to lose what made the movie popular but at the same time has to find a theater life for the piece that’s separate from its identity as a film. Holmes brings his strengths as a novelist and as a Tony® winning songwriter to this task. The music for The First Wives Club is by the legendary Motown writers Lamont Dozier, Brian Holland and Eddie Holland, the famed HDH of such hits as Baby Love, Where Did Our Love Go? and Stop! In the Name of Love made famous by The Supremes. But this isn’t one of that much maligned genre, the juke box musical, in which an existing song catalogue is shoehorned into a sketchy scenario. HDH have written a brand new score for First Wives. In so doing they join the ranks of such diverse songwriters who have crossed over into the theater as Roger Miller (Big River), Duncan Sheik (Spring Awakening) Boy George (Taboo) and Dolly Parton (9 to 5).
Robert Foxworth

(George)

Mr. Foxworth was most recently seen on Broadway in the Tony-Award® winning production of August: Osage County. He has also recently starred as Claudius in Hamlet at South Coast Repertory, directed by Daniel Sullivan, and on Broadway in the award-winning production of Twelve Angry Men for Roundabout Theatre Company. In 2003 he was Brutus in Daniel Sullivan’s Julius Caesar at The Old Globe. In the 2001/2002 season he played Robert in the national Broadway tour of Proof. Mr. Foxworth made his Broadway debut in The American Shakespeare Festival’s production of Henry V. He won the Theatre World Award for his portrayal of John Proctor in The Crucible at Lincoln Center. His stage work was interrupted for a period of time as he starred in several television series including Storefront Lawyers, Falcon Crest and Late Line with Al Franken. He has guest starred on countless series episodes and MOVs over the years. The most recent being a two-year stint on Six Feet Under and episodes of Law & Order, Law & Order: SVU and The Gilmore Girls. His stage work has included Cyrano at the Great Lakes Theatre Festival, Iago and Macbeth at the Guthrie, George in Edward Albee’s Who’s Afraid of Virginia Woolf? at Hartford Stage, Brecht’s Galileo at Center Stage in Baltimore, Uncle Vanya at the Geffen and Private Lives and Below the Belt at The Old Globe. On Broadway he was Count Shevlyevski in Ivanov at Lincoln Center, starred with Jane Alexander in Honour at the Belasco and played the prosecuting attorney, Colonel Parker in Judgement at Nuremberg at the Longacre. Mr. Foxworth was seen in Syriana and is the voice of Rachet in Transformers I and II. He and his wife Stacey have recently made their home in Encinitas.

What’s so great about classic literature?

A great story can be told time after time and generation after generation and it never fails to resonate with the listeners. Teaching great literature in schools, though, can be tricky. Students need, of course, some guidance in analyzing the works so that they can fully appreciate what they are reading. Essay questions, text-based quizzes and critical comparison all have their place in the study of literature, but some students find that they need other ways to explore the text. Some students need help in discovering just what makes classic literature so terrific.

The Old Globe’s In-Classroom Residency program is designed to give teachers another method for the study of literature and other core curriculum subjects. Classroom teachers do not usually incorporate theatre into their study of literature and that’s where The Old Globe can help. Our Teaching Artists work with students to explore the text they are reading and to find ways to bring the characters and situations to life. Through Readers Theatre, Improvisation and Creative Dramatics the students dig more deeply into the story and find resonance by creating the voices and feeling the emotions of the characters. These residencies provide teachers an ideal opportunity to reach students and to bring them lessons that they will remember for years to come.

Supporting a love of great literature is not restricted to the classroom. High School students attend many of The Old Globe’s plays through our Student Matinee program. Through the generosity of our donors, thousands of students each year are given the opportunity to experience live theatre absolutely free of charge. And when we present one of the plays in our Classics Up Close series, teachers are especially eager to bring their students to the theatre. It is one thing to read a play aloud in the classroom but to actually see it performed at The Old Globe is a teaching opportunity that is second to none. We support this program with in-classroom workshops that prepare students for the play before they see it and Study Guides for teachers to use both before and after they’ve seen the play.

Great literature and great stories are what The Old Globe is all about and we are pleased to provide opportunities for young people to explore these works with us. We hear from students months and even years after they have seen one of our shows and the experience is still alive in their memories. We are honored to have given them the chance to spend quiet hours in the theatre experiencing stories created by the likes of Edward Albee, Tennessee Williams and Arthur Miller and learning just what is so great about classic literature.

STUDENTS CREATE A TABLEAU BASED ON A THEME
The Conrad Prebys Theatre Center will herald an exciting new era for The Old Globe, enabling the theatre to produce works at an even higher artistic level and helping ensure the Globe’s prominent position in the future of American theatre. Construction will be completed in 2009, and the first production will be in early 2010.

Old Globe Theatre - Donald and Darlene Shiley Stage
The Conrad Prebys Theatre Center will encompass both the new facility now under construction and the Old Globe Theatre – the Globe’s flagship theatre with year-round performances of Broadway-bound musicals, classics and new plays.

NEW! Sheryl and Harvey White Theatre
A state-of-the-art arena stage – for our intimate productions – with 251 seats in five rows surrounding the stage, safe and comfortable theatre access for audience and actors, full lighting grid and trap room, and new public restrooms.

NEW! Karen and Donald Cohn Education Center
Including Hartox Hall, a large performance and training space for children and adults, as well as a studio dedicated to student activities and a “History of The Old Globe” installation. The Education Center will be home to the Globe’s many audience enrichment activities, serving more than 50,000 each year, and will feature spectacular views from the Donald and Darlene Shiley Terrace.

NEWLY REDESIGNED! Copley Plaza
The Globe’s 13,000-square foot “outdoor lobby” will feature an expanded dining pavilion and seating areas and stunning new landscaping, providing a comfortable welcome to theatergoers, as well as many of the 12 million annual visitors to Balboa Park.

THE OLD GLOBE ARENA STAGE PRODUCTIONS AT THE SAN DIEGO MUSEUM OF ART
NOW - NOVEMBER 2009
During construction, The Old Globe has built a temporary arena stage in the James S. Copley Auditorium at the San Diego Museum of Art. We are grateful to the Museum for leasing us this space just steps away from the Globe to house our “second stage” productions. In building this theatre, we had one goal: to provide you with uninterrupted enjoyment of our intimate productions.
The Old Globe's ability to maintain the highest standard of excellence, while keeping ticket prices affordable, is due in large part to the financial support of more than 2,000 individuals, businesses, foundations and government agencies. Please join us in giving a warm thanks and recognition to these leaders who have made tonight and our 625 other performances possible. The Old Globe appreciates the support of those who have stepped into the spotlight.

ORDERING TICKETS/CHANGE OF ADDRESS
The Old Globe accepts Visa, Discover, MasterCard, or American Express. Phone orders for non-subscribers are subject to a $3 per ticket service charge, not to exceed $12. Ticket exchanges are subject to a service charge for non-subscribers. If you have moved, please notify the Ticket Services Office to update our records. Call (619) 234-5623 during Ticket Services hours, mail your change of address to the Ticket Services Office, or email us at Tickets@TheOldGlobe.org.

UNABLE TO ATTEND?
If you find you are unable to use your tickets, please give them to a friend, or turn them in to the Ticket Services Office and receive a tax receipt for your donation. Tickets must be received by show time.

RESTROOMS AND TELEPHONES
Restrooms are located in the lower lobby of the Old Globe Theatre and adjacent to the Festival Theatre; pay phones may be found in the lower Globe Theatre lobby and next to the Gift Shop.

SEATING OF LATECOMERS
Although we understand parking is often at a premium, the seating of latecomers is extremely disruptive. Latecomers may be given alternative seating and will be seated at an appropriate interval.

YOUNG CHILDREN
Children five years of age and under will not be admitted to performances.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES AND CAMERAS
Use of recording devices and cameras is not permitted. If you are wearing a digital watch or pager, or if you are carrying a cellular phone, please silence it prior to entering the theatre.

ASSISTED LISTENING SYSTEM
For the convenience of the hearing impaired, the assisted listening system is available in the Old Globe Theatre. Lightweight headsets may be obtained from the house manager prior to performances, free of charge.

PUBLIC TOURS
Go behind the scenes at The Old Globe to learn about the history, three stages, shop and craft areas. Open tours: most Saturdays and Sundays at 10:30am. Groups by reservation. $5 adults; $3 seniors and students. Phone (619) 231-1941 x2142 for information/reservations.

LOST AND FOUND
If you have misplaced a personal item while at the theatre, please contact the Ticket Services Office or Security as soon as possible. If we are unable to locate your item, we’ll happily take down your contact information as well as a description of the item and contact you if it is found. The Old Globe does not assume liability for items left behind on premises.
