JANE AUSTEN'S

Emma

A MUSICAL ROMANTIC COMEDY

at the OLD GLOBE THEATRE

JANUARY 2011
For some time now, I’ve been wanting the Globe to work with Paul Gordon, one of today’s most gifted writers for the musical theatre. I’m delighted that Jane Austen’s Emma is the project bringing him to the Globe. Austen’s beloved story of a young woman who knows what’s best for everyone but herself has a timeless quality and is the perfect story for a musical. Paul’s treatment reveals the passions and energy of Jane Austen’s characters with a contemporary filter while remaining truthful to this story. At its heart, Emma is a romantic comedy, and there’s a full measure of both here. Ultimately, this adaptation reminds us that beneath the corsets and frock coats, these vital young people are as confounded by courtship and love as we are today.

I’m so pleased to welcome our director Jeff Calhoun back to the Globe. Jeff is an acclaimed Broadway director and choreographer who will create a world at the beginning of the 19th century that will capture the imaginations of audiences in the beginning of the 21st century.

I wish you a great time with these beloved seekers of love who you may fall in love with all over today.

Dear Friends,

Thank you for joining us as we continue in our 75th Anniversary year! One of the reasons The Old Globe remains a force in American theatre is the variety of productions presented on our three stages, and this season is certainly no exception. This is definitely the beginning of another great year to be involved with the Globe.

We’re so pleased that you are continuing to make the Globe an integral part of your lives. For 75 years, the Globe has relied upon its ever-growing family of dedicated subscribers, donors and volunteers to provide an environment for the development and education of theatre professionals, audiences, students and the San Diego community at large. Simply put, we could not thrive as the sixth-largest regional theatre in the country without the passion of your commitment and support.

I am proud to be able to tell you, once again, that when you contribute to The Old Globe, you are making a sound financial investment in San Diego culture. For the past seven years, the Globe has enjoyed balanced budgets — no easy task for a not-for-profit performing arts institution, particularly in recent years of serious economic challenges. And we look to you to help us continue this trend in 2011.

It has been my privilege throughout the last two years to serve as The Old Globe’s Board Chair and work with the Globe’s dedicated Board of Directors, devoted volunteers, generous donors, talented actors and hard-working staff. Thank you for being here today and for supporting The Old Globe.

Welcome and enjoy the performance!

Sincerely,

Donald L. Cohn, Chair

Peter Cooper and Norman Blachford

Peter Cooper and Norman Blachford are longtime supporters of The Old Globe and are well known for their major philanthropic activities and community activism. Norman serves on the Board at the Mingei International Museum and is on the Founders Council of the Williams Institute at the UCLA School of Law. A native of Montreal, Norman founded a manufacturing firm that produced noise control materials for the transportation industry and many international corporations. In 1981 H.L. Blachford and Louis Stankiewicz were awarded a Technical Achievement Award (stage operations) by the Academy of Motion Pictures and Arts Sciences. Peter, now a retired businessman, is a member of the Globe’s Board of Directors, chairs the Education Committee and also serves on the Nominating Committee. He is also a Founding Council member of the Williams Institute at the UCLA School of Law and is on the board of the Fishman Fund at the Sanford Burnham Institute.

HME

HM Electronics, Inc. (HME) was the first company to develop a wireless intercom system, which quickly became the industry standard among broadcast and entertainment professionals around the globe. In 2011 the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences (NATAS) will present HME with an Emmy Award for the company’s “work in the Development of Wireless Intercom.” In tonight’s performance, and many others throughout the year at The Old Globe, HME’s generous gift of equipment provides clear and reliable wireless communication among members of the Globe’s Production staff.

Continental Airlines

For nearly 20 years, Continental Airlines has provided Globe artists nonstop service between San Diego and Continental Airlines’ New York area hub, Newark Liberty International Airport. Continental is the world’s fifth largest airline serving over 260 destinations with more than 2,700 daily departures throughout the Americas, Europe and Asia. Continental consistently earns awards and critical acclaim for both its operation and its corporate culture. For nine consecutive years, FORTUNE magazine has ranked Continental as the top U.S. airline on its World’s Most Admired Companies airline industry list. Continental is committed to the communities it serves and supports numerous charitable organizations across the country. Continental Airlines’ previous production support includes underwriting for Boeing-Boeing, Six Degrees of Separation, Restoration Comedy, The Times They Are A-Changin’, Take Me Out and Bus Stop.
Jane Austen lived a quiet life in southern England. In a time when single women were pitied, she had the support of a close-knit family and a talent for observation and for putting those observations on paper.

She was born in 1775 in Steventon, Hampshire, England, the seventh of eight children. Although her formal education ended at 12, her family valued literature and reading, and she had access to everything in the family’s extensive library. She also played the piano and her family performed plays and read aloud, both from their library and from original writings of family members. In this atmosphere, Austen started writing early. There is evidence of her work going back to age 12, including parodies of then-current novels.

At this time, novels were a relatively new literary form. Many early ones were written as a series of letters and were long and sprawling. Gothic novels, with their exotic foreigners and ruined castles, were popular, as were sentimental or romantic novels full of exaggerated emotions and improbable plots. Many novels were considered immoral for women to read, despite the fact that women wrote many of them. Also, in this male-dominated society, women were believed incapable of writing work with literary merit.

None of this deterred Austen. In 1795, at 20, she wrote a draft of Elinor and Marianne. In 1796, after a budding romance was squelched by family interference, she started a novel called First Impressions, which was eventually published as Pride and Prejudice. Within two years, she was working on what would be her first novel sold and one of the last published, Susan, which Austen renamed Catherine, but was published posthumously as Northanger Abbey.

Between 1800 and 1810 she wrote one unfinished novel, The Watsons. It is unclear exactly why or when Austen stopped writing, but those years were fraught with family issues including the death of her father, several unhappy years in Bath and a proposal of marriage that she accepted and then retracted the next morning.

In 1810 Austen was writing again, turning Elinor and Marianne into Sense and Sensibility, published in 1811 at her own expense. Because of the stigma attached to female authors, she published it anonymously, as she did all her novels, but it received great acclaim.

Pride and Prejudice (1813) followed, and the review by The British Critic called it “very far superior to almost all the publications of the kind which have come before us.” Its success generated three printings in her lifetime.

Austen then tried a new style with Mansfield Park (1814). It was a moralistic novel that Austen again had to publish at her own expense. When it sold out in six months and her publisher balked at a second edition, she moved to another publisher.

Her next novel was Emma in 1815. It was well received, with contemporary novelist Susan Ferrier saying it had “no story whatsoever, and the heroine is no better than other people; but the characters are all so true to life, and the style so piquant, that it does not require the adventitious aids of mystery and adventure.”

Austen completed her final novel, Persuasion, in 1816. Unfortunately, by this time her health was declining. She continued working, starting Sandition, which remained unfinished at her death on July 18, 1817. Persuasion and Northanger Abbey were published posthumously and her reputation continued to grow; now she is one of the most admired authors of the 19th century.
In plotting out a musical, the first thing I always ask myself is: do these characters sing? And really, why do we want to hear them sing, even if they do? To the second question, I will simply say that art is subjective and we all have our particular tastes. But the first question to me is more interesting. I’ve seen many a musical where I was thoroughly convinced that the answer to that question was a resounding “no.”

When I first considered turning Emma into a musical, I pondered the idea carefully before running to the piano. Having seen several film versions and read the novel, I wanted to make sure it had an inherently musical ethos simply beyond being a “period piece.” It soon became apparent that not only did these characters sing, but they sang quite effortlessly.

Jane Austen’s brilliant comedy provides the perfect bedrock for a musical. In Emma Woodhouse we have a protagonist who can’t help but be completely mistaken on almost every point, and yet through Austen’s penetrating humor she remains surprisingly sympathetic to the reader. Musicalizing her felt natural, and Austen’s biting wit and intelligence lend themselves quite naturally to lyric writing.

The makeover of Harriet Smith, Emma’s devoted protégé, was also ripe with musical possibility. Her affection for the lowly farmer, Robert Martin, was superbly appealing for creating repeating motifs that would somehow imply the innocence of love and thread Emma’s continued wrongheadedness about her friend’s future.

Of course, the Knightley-Emma relationship was the most appealing aspect of all. Here you have Austen creating truly one of the first romantic comedies in literature. She shapes the kind of banter that would later be emulated by Hepburn and Tracy and paved the way for Woody Allen’s Annie Hall, Nora Ephron’s When Harry Met Sally and countless other films to follow in the same genre. (Yes, there was Beatrice and Benedict but Knightley and Emma have their own unique charm and are as contemporary today as they were in the early 19th century when Jane Austen conjured them up.)

When I started to create the score I didn’t necessarily determine in advance what style the music would be written in. I mostly let the story guide me, and I tried to take my cues from the characters themselves. It all felt quite natural. What has emerged, I hope, is a sound tinged with my early influences: Lennon and McCartney (leaning towards George Martin’s alluring strings to “Eleanor Rigby”) and of course the amazing Stephen Sondheim who, simply by listening to his genius, has taught me everything I know about writing for the theatre.

It should also be noted that I have already done three productions of Jane Austen’s Emma with other actors and another director. What I have gained from working with these gifted and generous artists is too extensive to describe here. But suffice it to say that the craft of musical theatre is all about collaboration. On this production, I am grateful to be collaborating with director Jeff Calhoun, who has brought a modern sensibility to a classic story.

But of course my first and main collaborator is Jane Austen. I don’t take lightly the presumptuousness of my assuming a partnership with her. And since she can’t be here to scold me on the creative liberties I have taken, I must leave that to our audiences and our critics. All I can say is that the production you see today is truly a labor of love, for Jane Austen and for the characters she has created. And as to whether or not these characters sing: perhaps they will let you know themselves.
As Jane Austen was writing her novels, England was experiencing great change. The population had nearly doubled since 1760, the Industrial Revolution was changing lives and the Enclosure Acts were privatizing public grazing land. In addition, in 1811 King George III was declared insane and his son became Prince Regent, giving rise to the period called The Regency (1811–1820).

At the top of society was the aristocracy, about 200 families of immense wealth and power. Below them were the landed gentry, often seen in Austen’s novels, some of whom were titled and some of whom were not. In these families the eldest son inherited the estate and the younger sons had to find an income, usually from the church, the armed forces or the law. These were followed by the middle class, tradesmen and tenant farmers, laborers and servants and finally, the poor.

Life was ruled by a strict code of manners. For example, first names were rarely used outside the family, and between men and women their use was unthinkable unless they were engaged or related.

In the upper classes, most private activities, including reading, drawing or letter writing, were done before breakfast. Letter writing was a popular activity since it was the only way to communicate across long, or even short, distances. Due to cost, most letters were one page, so people became expert at both writing in very small letters and writing crossways across already written text.

Dinner was the largest meal and biggest event of the day, served with as many courses as the budget allowed. After dinner, the women left the table for the drawing room, leaving the men to drink and smoke. After an hour or so, the men rejoined the women and the whole party had tea, which was still an expensive commodity, kept under lock and key.

In the evening, everyone would talk, play cards or enjoy live music that was played and sung primarily by the women of the party. Sometimes, after dinner, an impromptu dance would occur, but more exciting was to attend a ball. Like everything else in society, there were strict rules governing behavior, including a prohibition against casual conversation without a formal introduction, but dancing offered unprecedented opportunities for private conversations that were forbidden anywhere but on the dance floor.

The Regency was a difficult time for women. What little education they received was usually aimed at attracting a husband. Generally, women of the gentry did not work (there were exceptions including teachers and governesses) and had to marry in order to secure their social position and their livelihood. Courtship was complicated by rules established to protect a woman’s reputation. For example, before a couple was engaged, they could not use first names, be alone together or correspond. Any deviation might imply a loss of virtue for the woman.

Women were usually married by 25, although many married in their teens. Without birth control, they had many children and death in childbirth was not uncommon. Three of Austen’s brothers lost wives in childbirth, two with their 11th child. Women who never married had to rely on relatives for their support or find work in a world of limited opportunity.

Women such as Austen were beginning to break this mold. The relatively new genre of the novel attracted a number of female authors, although many looked down on them and their work. It would be many years before the idea of independent women gained society’s respect.
There is nothing quite like the thrill of performing on stage in front of hundreds of fans in a world-class theatre like The Old Globe. It’s a rush unlike any other. Now high schoolers can experience that excitement for themselves through two special programs: the Summer Shakespeare Intensive and Globe Honors.

SUMMER SHAKESPEARE INTENSIVE

40 high school students will be selected in March to participate in the Summer Shakespeare Intensive. This four-week program guides students through workshops and rehearsals that culminate in a performance of one of Shakespeare’s plays in the outdoor Lowell Davies Festival Theatre. It is an unparalleled opportunity for serious high school students to develop their skills and perform at The Old Globe in front of their family, friends and theatre professionals. And through the generous support of the Globe’s family of donors, full scholarships are provided to all students accepted into the program.

AUDITION DATES: Saturday, March 19 and Sunday, March 20, 2011

REHEARSAL DATES: Monday through Friday, July 18 through August 16, 2011

PERFORMANCE DATE: Monday, August 16, 2011

Now is your child’s chance to feel the exhilaration that all of the Globe’s actors feel the moment they step onto our stages. For more information about the Summer Shakespeare Intensive or Globe Honors or to schedule an audition, please contact the Education Department at GlobeLearning@TheOldGlobe.org.

GLOBE HONORS IN MAY

Students compete for scholarships and national recognition in our Globe Honors awards program. The first step is an audition in which students present monologues or songs. Semi-finalists are selected from this initial audition process and are judged by a panel of professional adjudicators. The finals is a thrilling evening of monologues and songs performed on the Globe stage with winners announced that same night. Winners are provided scholarships to further their theatre studies. In addition, winners of the Best Performance in a High School Musical Award receive an all-expense-paid trip to New York to compete in the National High School Musical Theatre Awards in June 2011.

FIRST CALL AUDITIONS: May 7, 8 and 9, 2011

SEMI-FINALS: May 17, 2011 at 4:00 pm

GLOBE HONORS: May 17, 2011 at 8:00 pm

ADAM DAVELINE
(Robert Martin) recently made his Old Globe/USD M.F.A. debut as The Shepherd in The Winter's Tale. Some of his regional credits include Bruce in Finding Nemo — The Musical (Walt Disney Creative Entertainment), Javert in Les Misérables, David in Company, Peter in Jesus Christ Superstar, Carl in Bus Stop, Zoser in Elton John and Tim Rice's Aida, Adam in Seven Brides for Seven Brothers, Smudge in Forever Plaid and The Baker in Into the Woods. His film and commercial work includes Fire Creek (Lifegong Productions), City Search.com and Glow After Dark (Jennifer Lopez Productions). His recordings include the concept albums of The Legend of Sleepy Hollow and Savior of the World. He has also performed as a featured soloist in Carnegie Hall with the National Alliance for Excellence. Mr. Daveline received his B.F.A. in Musical Theatre from Brigham Young University and is currently pursuing his M.F.A. in Dramatic Arts from the University of San Diego/Old Globe. He is a proud member of Actors’ Equity Association.

RICHERT EASLEY
(Mr. Woodhouse) is happy to be returning to his favorite curmudgeon, Mr. Woodhouse, having played him previously at Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park and The Repertory Theatre of St. Louis. He is a veteran of regional theatres throughout the U.S. including Studio Arena Theater, Stage West, Riverside Theatre and The Arrow Rock Lyceum Theatre, to mention only a few. He has appeared on Broadway in Jack O’Brien’s acclaimed revival of Porgy and Bess and, in a much younger and slimmer incarnation, the infamous Oh! Calcutta! He has made the requisite appearances on “Law & Order,” and his film appearances include the ahead-of-its-time Canadian film Outrageous. He remains an avid collector of American Dinnerware and 3D paraphernalia of the 50s.

SUZANNE GRODNER
(Miss Bates) is so happy to be doing Jane Austen’s Emma at The Old Globe. Ms. Grodner created the role of Miss Bates at TheatreWorks in Palo Alto and has performed Jane Austen's Emma at Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park, The Repertory Theatre of St. Louis and the National Alliance for Musical Theatre Festival of New Musicals in New York. Her Broadway credits include Bye Bye Birdie (Roundabout Theatre Company) and The Rose Tattoo (Circle in the Square Theatre). Her Off Broadway credits include Sarah, Sarah (Manhattan Theatre Club), Cakewalk and Death Defying Acts (Variety Arts Center), Apelemundo's Dreams (Vineyard Theatre) and Waiting for the Parade (A.W.E.). She has appeared in The National and International Tours of The Phantom of the Opera and Brighton Beach Memoirs. She has appeared regionally in Wintertime (A Contemporary Theatre), Angels in America (Actors Theatre of Louisville), The Smell of the Kill and Much Ado About Nothing (Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park), I’m Not Rappaport (Pittsburgh Public Theater), Distracted, Twentieth Century, Living Out, The Fourth Wall and Into the Woods (TheatreWorks, Palo Alto), Enchanted April (Pioneer Theatre Company), The Plexiglass Slipper, Tartuffe and Broadway Bound (Asolo Repertory Theatre), The Sisters Rosensweig and The Importance of Being Earnest (Indiana Repertory Theatre), The Princess and the Pea (Shakespeare Santa Cruz), Lost in Yonkers and Backsliding in the Promised Land (Syracuse Stage) and Red Herring (Florida Stage), among others. Ms. Grodner’s television credits include “Law & Order,” “Law & Order: Special Victims Unit,” “Law & Order: Criminal Intent,” “Ed” and HBO’s “Hidden Signs.”

BRIAN HERNDON
(Mr. Elton) is thrilled to be a part of Jane Austen’s Emma in the next chapter of its journey! He originated the role of Mr. Elton in the very first staged reading in 2006 and has relished performing the show in Mountain View, Cincinnati, St. Louis and New York City. Mr. Herndon makes his Old Globe debut with Jane Austen’s Emma and could not be more pleased. He makes his home in San Francisco and has performed all over the Bay Area. His favorite roles include Seymour in Little Shop of Horrors, Dromio of Syracuse in The Comedy of Errors, Charlie in The Foreigner and Leo Bloom in The Producers. Next summer he will be performing as Iachimo in Cymbeline with the San Francisco Shakespeare Festival. Mr. Herndon teaches stage combat and theatre at Solano College and Odyssey Middle School and is a proud member of Actors’ Equity, the PlayGround Company and the Society of American Fight Directors. He holds a B.A. from Cornell University, an M.F.A. in Acting from the Alabama Shakespeare Festival and is a graduate of the Dell’Arte International School of Physical Theatre.

KELLY HUTCHISON
(Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Elton) has appeared on Broadway in Desire Under the Elms, Major Barbara and Macbeth. Off Broadway she has appeared in Or (Women’s Project), The Voyage of the Carcass (Soho Playhouse), Tony Kushner’s Homebody/Kabul (New York Theatre Workshop) and Romola and Nijinsky at (Primary Stages). Her regional credits include The Understudy (Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park), Penelope of Ithaca (Hangar Theatre), How Shakespeare Won the West (Huntington Theatre Company), The Unmentionables (Yale Repertory Theatre, directed by Anna D. Shapiro), Touch(ed) (Pioneer Theatre Company), Rocket to the Moon (directed by Daniel Fish), Baltimore CENTERSTAGE, Barrington Stage Company, Indiana Repertory Theatre and others. On television Ms. Hutchinson has been seen on “Law & Order,” “Law & Order: Special Victims Unit,” “Hass” and “The Jury,” as well as a recurring role on “Strangers with Candy.” Her films include Catch Me If You Can, Slippery Slope, Hysterical Psycho and the upcoming The Sea Is All I Know with Melissa Leo. Ms. Hutchinson is a founding member of the theatre company Stage13.
DANI MARCUS (Harriet Smith) is delighted to make her Old Globe debut. Her regional credits include Harriet Smith in Jane Austen’s Emma (TheatreWorks, Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park and The Repertory Theatre of St. Louis). The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee (San Jose Repertory Theatre), Beggar’s Holiday (Marin Theatre Company, Bay Area Theatre Critics Circle Award) and The Musical of Musicals (The Musical!) (Center REP Theatre). Ms. Marcus’ New York credits include the Drama Desk-nominated The Pirates of Penzance (The National Yiddish Theatre), River’s End (New York Musical Theatre Festival) and Civil War Voices (2010 Midtown International Theatre Festival).

Ms. Marcus is a proud member of Actors’ Equity.

ADAM MONLEY (Mr. Knightley) is excited and grateful to be back at The Old Globe where he was last seen in Working. He has appeared on Broadway in the original cast of Mamma Mia!, and his National Tour credits include Raoul in The Phantom of the Opera and Mark Twain and Voice of Huck in Deaf West’s Phantom of the Opera, cast of Hairspray (Cape Playhouse) and originating the role of Sharpay Evans in the premiere professional production of Disney’s High School Musical (Theatre of the Stars), every production of David Zippel’s Princesses (Goodspeed Musicals and 5th Avenue Theatre), Amber in Hairspray (Cape Playhouse) and originating the role of Sharpay Evans in the premiere professional production of Disney’s High School Musical (Theatre of the Stars, directed by Jeff Calhoun).

Other than appearing on two episodes of “All My Children,” Ms. Murin has not been on television, but she really likes to watch it. She holds a B.F.A. in Musical Theatre from Syracuse University. www.pattimurin.com.

PATTI MURIN (Emma Woodhouse) is honored to play the title role in such an incredible new work at this reputable theatre. Her favorite theatre experience so far is playing Euterpe and understudying Kira/Clio in Xanadu on Broadway. Her recent credits include playing Lysistrata Jones in Douglas Carter Beane’s new musical, Give It Up! (Dallas Theater Center), Waverly in Next Thing You Know by Josh Salzman and Ryan Cunningham (Berkshire Theatre Festival) and Nicole in Band Geeks! (Goodspeed Musicals). Ms. Murin’s other favorite credits include Belle in Disney’s Beauty and the Beast (Theatre of the Stars), every production of David Zippel’s Princesses (Goodspeed Musicals and 5th Avenue Theatre), Amber in Hairspray (Cape Playhouse) and originating the role of Sharpay Evans in the premiere professional production of Disney’s High School Musical (Theatre of the Stars, directed by Jeff Calhoun).

Other than appearing on two episodes of “All My Children,” Ms. Murin has not been on television, but she really likes to watch it. She holds a B.F.A. in Musical Theatre from Syracuse University. www.pattimurin.com.

AMANDA NAUGHTON (Mrs. Weston) has previously appeared at the Globe in Lost in Yonkers, The Women, The Constant Wife, Loves and Hours and Paramour. Her Broadway credits include Into the Woods (2002 revival) and The Secret Garden (also the National Tour, Jefferson Award nominee). She has appeared Off Broadway in Romance in Hard Times, Hundreds of Hats, 3 Postcards and Mr. President. Regionally she has been seen in A Midsummer Night’s Dream (La Jolla Playhouse), A Little Night Music (Goodspeed Musicals, LA Opera and South Coast Repertory), Amour and O. Henry’s Lovers (Goodspeed Musicals), On the Town (Pittsburgh Civic Light Opera), Gypsy, Tartuffe, The Waves, Misalliance, Bedroom Farce and The Threepenny Opera (Hangar Theatre), Anything Goes, Hello, Dolly!, The Sound of Music, The Foreigner, Lend Me a Tenor, Steel Magnolias and Barefoot in the Park (Forestburgh Playhouse), The Royal Family (Caldwell Theatre Company), The Betrayal of Nora Blake (Cuillo Centre For The Arts), Another Kind of Hero (Walnut Street Theatre) and Edith Stein (Geva Theatre). Her television credits include the role of Betty Roberts on AMC’s original series “Remember WENN,” “Law & Order: Criminal Intent,” “Law & Order: Special Victims Unit,” “Payne” (with John Larroquette) and “Chappelle’s Show.” She received her B.F.A. from Ithaca College. Ms. Naughton is married to Globe Associate Artist Ralph Funicello and they have a daughter, Sophia.

DON NOBLE (Mr. Weston) is thrilled to be at The Old Globe! He played Sam Carmichael in Mamma Mia! (National Tour) and has appeared Off Broadway in That Other Woman’s Child and Perfect Crime. Recent regional credits include Dr. Winston in Cactus Flower, Atticus Finch in To Kill A Mockingbird and Gabriel Conroy in James Joyce’s The Dead (Capital Repertory Theater). Ms. Albrecht received her M.F.A. in Stage Management from UC San Diego.

LOUIS G. SPISTO
(Executive Producer) directs both the artistic and administrative activities of The Old Globe. During his tenure, Mr. Spisto spearheaded the return of the Shakespeare Repertory Company, revitalized the Globe’s new works program, resulting in 12 world premiere plays and 10 world premiere musicals, and produced more than 100 productions. Under Mr. Spisto’s leadership, ticket sales and contributions have increased substantially, and the fiscal health of the organization has been strengthened to support the expanded artistic vision. Mr. Spisto has successfully led the Globe’s $75 million Capital Campaign and managed the development of the Conrad Prebys Theatre Center, which includes a state-of-the-art arena theatre and education center. An advocate of arts education, Mr. Spisto created a number of new programs that serve tens of thousands of young San Diegans each year. These programs include a bilingual summer Shakespeare intensive, a major initiative in southeastern San Diego which includes the development of new works for younger and more diverse audiences, and free student matinees of the Globe’s regular productions. Mr. Spisto holds a Master’s degree from the University of Wisconsin and a Bachelor’s degree from the University of Notre Dame. Mr. O’Brien has served as chief executive for the Pacific Symphony, Detroit Symphony and American Ballet Theatre.

Recipient of ArtServe Michigan’s 2008 International Achievement Award. Mr. O’Brien is a member of the College of Fellows of the American Theatre.

CRAIG NOEL
(Founding Director) was first appointed director in 1939, directing 15 productions prior to World War II. Since then he directed more than 200 plays of all styles and periods and produced an additional 270 productions. His vision for The Old Globe resulted in the establishment of the Shakespeare Festival and the San Diego Junior Theatre in the late ‘40s, the expansion to two theatres in the ‘50s, Globe Educational Tours in the ‘70s and Teatro Meta and the Old Globe/University of San Diego MFA program in the ‘80s. During the 1940s, Mr. Noel served as dialogue director for the 20th Century Fox Studios and was the former director of the Ernie Pyle Theatre in Tokyo. Described by Variety as the eminence grise of San Diego theatre, Mr. Noel is one of the few San Diegans to have had an entire year (1987) proclaimed in his honor, and to be named one of San Diego’s “Living Treasures.” He was a founder of the California Theatre Council and a former vice president of the California Confederation of the Arts. His numerous honors include The San Diego Union-Tribune list of 25 persons who shaped the city’s history; the Governor’s Award for the Arts; University of Arizona Alumni Association’s Outstanding Citizen, for his contribution to their Fine Arts department; San Diego State University’s Outstanding Alumnus; Conservator of American Arts Award from American Conservatory Theater; the San Diego Press Club Headliner Award; San Diego Gentleman of Distinction Award; and a combined tribute from the Public Arts Advisory Council and the San Diego County Board of Supervisors. Mr. Noel was particularly proud of the following three honors representing education and theatre: Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters, University of San Diego, Honorary Doctorate in Fine Arts, San Diego State University and the annual Awards for Excellence in Theatre named in his honor by the San Diego Theatre Critics Circle.

In 2007, he received the National Medal of Arts – the nation’s highest honor for artistic excellence – in a ceremony at the White House. Craig Noel died on April 3, 2010 at the age of 94.

This list current as of December 3, 2010

As announced in July 2008, the names of Annual Fund donors at the Silver level are published semi-annually, once in the Shakespeare Festival program and again in a winter Globe program.

For additional information on how you may support The Old Globe’s artistic, education and community programs, please visit our website at www.TheOldGlobe.org, or contact Rachel Plummer, Development Manager. Individual Annual Giving, at (619) 231-1941 x2317 or rplummer@TheOldGlobe.org.
Globe Ambassadors

Globe Ambassadors are generous supporters of The Old Globe who contribute major gifts to the Annual Fund, attend special Globe meetings and activities and serve as advocates in the community for the Globe’s mission and goals. As a group, Ambassadors sponsor one Globe production each season.

Corporate Partners enjoy benefits and recognition, including the opportunity to entertain clients and employees with exclusive receptions at the Theatre, behind-the-scenes tours, and preferred seating at our shows. For information, please contact Todd Schultz at (619) 231-1941 x2310.
Members of the Craig Noel League are ensuring a successful future for The Old Globe by contributing to the Endowment Fund or including the Globe in their Estate Plans. We thank our members for their legacy gifts and urge others to join them in the Craig Noel League.

Earnings generated from the Endowment Fund support the Theatre’s artistic and educational programming, helping sustain the Globe’s high level of artistic excellence. As future generations discover great theatre at the Globe, they will have our Craig Noel League donors to thank. Globe staff can advise how to leave a lasting gift to the Globe whether it is a cash contribution, a charitable bequest in your will or living trust, a Charitable Remainder Trust, Lead Trusts, Gift Annuities, Life Estates or a number of other available options.

As we celebrate the Globe’s 75th Anniversary as a local cultural landmark and national icon, it is time to build for the future. Join those listed below who have chosen to support our Theatre forever and help secure the future of The Old Globe – for the next 75 years – and beyond!

ORDERING TICKETS/CHANGE OF ADDRESS
The Old Globe accepts Visa, Discover, MasterCard, or American Express. Phone orders for non-subscribers are subject to a $3.50 per ticket service charge. Ticket exchanges are subject to a service charge for non-subscribers. If you have moved, please notify the Ticket Services Office to update our records. Call (619) 234-5623 during Ticket Services hours, mail your change of address to the Ticket Services Office, or email us at Tickets@TheOldGlobe.org.

UNABLE TO ATTEND?
If you find you are unable to use your tickets, please give them to a friend, or turn them in to the Ticket Services Office and receive a tax receipt for your donation. Tickets must be received by show time.

RESTROOMS
Restrooms are located in the lower lobby of the Old Globe Theatre, the lobby of the White Theatre and adjacent to the Festival Theatre.

SEATING OF LATECOMERS
Although we understand parking is often at a premium, the seating of latecomers is extremely disruptive. Latecomers may be given alternative seating and will be seated at an appropriate interval.

YOUNG CHILDREN
Children five years of age and under will not be admitted to performances.

ELECTRONIC DEVICES AND CAMERAS
Use of recording devices and cameras is not permitted. Please silence all digital watches, pagers and cellular phones prior to entering the theatre.

ASSISTED LISTENING SYSTEM
For the convenience of the hearing impaired, the assisted listening system is available in the Old Globe Theatre and the White Theatre. Lightweight headsets may be obtained from the house manager prior to performances, free of charge.

PUBLIC TOURS
Go behind the scenes at The Old Globe to learn about the history, three stages, shop and craft areas. Open tours: most Saturdays and Sundays at 10:30am. Groups by reservation. $5 adults; $3 seniors and students. Phone (619) 231-1941 x2142 for information/reservations.

LOST AND FOUND
If you have misplaced a personal item while at the theatre, please contact the Ticket Services Office or Security as soon as possible. If we are unable to locate your item, we will happily take down your contact information and a description of the item and contact you if it is found. The Old Globe does not assume liability for items left behind on the premises.

Natural Herb Cough Drops - Courtesy of Ricola USA, Inc., are available upon request. Please ask an usher.
